

OCAD U's Summer Workshops Scholarship

OCAD University's Summer Workshop Scholarship supports youth ages 15 to 19 who face barriers in pursuing post-secondary education. Recipients of this scholarship will have access to art and design resources, instructors, peers and studio spaces at OCAD U with the intent of helping them prepare for creative education options in the future.

Its value is a free-tuition spot in one of our Summer Workshops during the week of either July 9th to July 13th or July 16th to July 20th, 2018. Recipients can also indicate whether they would like to continue to participate in our year-round Portfolio Clinic program.

To apply for this scholarship, you are asked to submit a creative reflection of what you do, why you do it, and who you do it for. In your reflection, please mention that you are applying from East End Arts, and note your Postal Code.

So, tell us in your own words about your interest in art, design and creativity and when you first realized you wanted to pursue that interest. Some suggestions might be to speak about: specific artists, designers or creative people who have influenced you, places you know and love, personal memories, stories or observations, a conversation that inspired or challenged you, questions you have about your world and the world around you, problems you want to solve, the list goes on! Being an artist or designer can vary from person to person, and the first step is to recognize what inspires you.

You can submit your creative reflection in written form or in other ways such as a video, a poem, a song, an audio recording or a performance to be no more than 3 minutes in length or 350 words max. Should you choose to submit the creative reflection in a non-written format, please attach it as a form of media.
